Capturing Beautiful Moments in the Lives of Horses

Everyone is Invited to my Studio Open House!

I'm hosting a Studio Open House on Sunday, July 10 from 1-4 pm. Come see over 50 of the artist's newest horse paintings! The paintings feature many favorite breeds — Quarter Horses, Arabians, Friesians, Morgans and Drafts. Paintings of five rare horses: a Welsh Cob stallion, Suffolk Polk mare, Zweibrucker gelding, Irish Draught mare and Akhal-Teke stallion, will also be on display. Plus, you might see a few dogs — canine (that is) paintings.

And if my paintings aren't colorful enough, feel free to stroll through my daylily garden. It's FULL of brightly colored flowers! (So bring your non-horsey gardening friends along to the Studio Open House!)

The exhibit will be held at Sunday, July 10 from 1-4 PM at 3613 Triway Lane, Wooster, Ohio. Everyone is welcome.

My trip to photograph horses in New York was filled with beautiful horses and wonderful people! You'll get to read about all the horses and people I met as I post the Beautiful Horses of New York paintings on my website along with their stories. The first paintings should appear about September, since it takes two—three months to complete one.

Right now I'm deciding which photos to use as the basis for each painting. In reviewing all the photos, I have to smile at certain shots. I thought I'd share some of the most amusing with you. (All the horses in these photos will have a painting in the Beautiful Horses of New York series, but most likely it will not be based on these photos.)

1. Suade is thinking about entering a dog competition. The jumps would be easy but this tunnel looks tricky. 2. Time to Be Dirty enjoys being the center of attention. He's not above rubbing it in to his pasture mates. 3. Paint stallion, A Little Bit of Smoke, jumps right in the stream when his owner Clint asks. 4. Stiletto does a happy dance. She's thrilled to be getting her picture taken! 5. My husband Will instructs Dream to turn left at the barn to get in the photo shoot. 6. Finger-lick'n good fence rails. 7. A horse for Dee (Duncan) and a Harley for her husband, Greg. 8. This tastes good enough to eat. 9. Shamrock has a tete-a-tete with my husband. 10. Speaking of herding, teeth come in handy again—this time with Theresa's paints. 11. AJ loves to play!
